

Start the New Year right. Get good food from local farms.

Eating with the Seasons sources organic fruits and vegetables from local farmers and delivers to this location for pick-up each week.

Get going on your resolution to eat better and healthier in 2012

- Get fresh fruits and veggies each week
- No pesticides or GMOs
- Support local farms

Each week you can choose what vegetables you'd like in your order, and add select, non-produce grocery items—like farm-fresh organic eggs, grass-fed beef, olive oils, herbs, preserves and much more.
